

Food and Farm Bill Listening Sessions

with Senator Michael Bennet's Staff

What?

The Farm Bill governs our national food and farm policy, including crop insurance, nutrition, and conservation, and is typically reauthorized every five years. Lawmakers in the House and Senate Agriculture committees are beginning to develop the next Farm Bill before the current measure Expires in late 2018.

Two listening sessions in Northwest Colorado will gather members of the agricultural and food community to meet with policy advisors and regional liaisons from Bennet's staff.
